

Taking the Guesswork Out of Gas Supply with EspriVision

Real Time Visibility to Stay Ahead of Demand

Meet EspriVision

Today's businesses are managing a lot, and gas supply is just one piece of the equation. EspriVision is a new, technology-enabled telemetry dashboard from EsprGas that provides real-time visibility into your gas supply across all locations. EspriVision lets you monitor volumes, track deliveries, receive alerts, and identify opportunities to optimize your gas supply and usage—all in one, easy-to-use platform. We provide full gas supply visibility, every day, at every site—so you're never in the dark about your gas.

Whether you're managing a few locations or several dozen, EspriVision helps you stay proactive, cut costs, minimize waste, and ensure a reliable supply chain so you can focus on other aspects of your business.

How EspriVision Helps

EspriVision provides you with everything you need to know about your gas volume, usage trends, and deliveries across all sites. We simplify your gas operations—so you can stay focused on your business.

EspriVision delivers:

Reliable Supply

You'll always have the gas supply you need when you need it.

Complete Visibility

Know what's happening across your business at every site, every day, from our all-in-one platform.

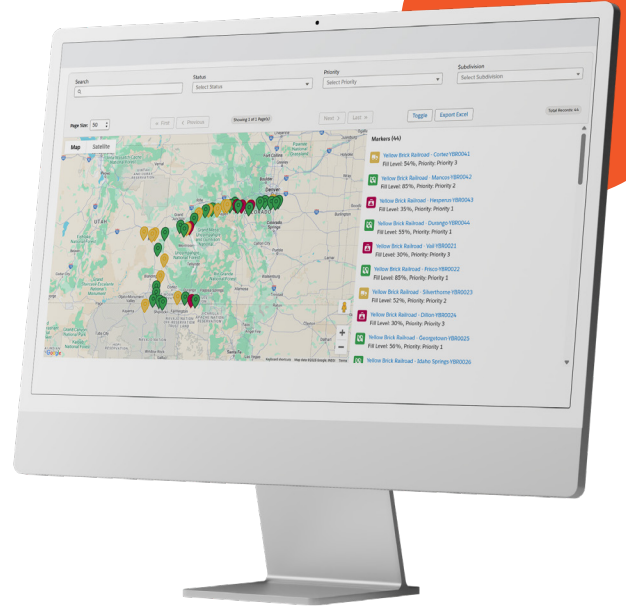

Optimized Operations

Avoid disruptions, detect issues earlier, and uncover cost savings.

Key Features

EspriVision is designed to give businesses everything they need to manage gas supply efficiently:

- > Real-Time Volume Monitoring: View volume levels across all your locations every day. EspriGas uses this data to determine when and where to schedule refills.
- > Site Performance Comparisons: Review data to determine which locations are performing best and identify opportunities for improvement for your whole business.
- > Usage Rate: Track your usage rates and any changes in usage patterns to predict future changes in demand and adjust supply accordingly.
- > Alerts & Thresholds: Receive notifications if you reach a reordering threshold or if abnormal usage is occurring so that we can address issues and ensure continued operations.

One Platform, Total Visibility

Complete gas supply monitoring, ordering, and tracking—that's what you get with EspriVision from EspriGas. With fewer disruptions, smarter supply, and more reliability, you'll see that we're handling your gas supply needs with an all-in-one, easy-to-use platform. This means you can have confidence in us as we're giving you the visibility you need to optimize operations across your organization.
